Student Eligibility for Transportation Pursuant to:

- IDEA—Students with disabilities are entitled to transportation as a related service if the IEP team has determined that it is required for the student to access their special education services. If the student is attending their neighborhood school, transportation will not be provided unless there is a compelling reason to do so based on the nature and severity of the student's disability.
- 504—The student has a physical or mental impairment which substantially limits one or more major life activities and limits the student's ability to get to school with their neighborhood peers. The student, therefore, requires transportation in order to access their educational program. Transportation will not be provided unless there is a compelling reason to do so.
